

I am writing this letter to recommend Aaron Jensen for his exceptional service in coordinating my late father's estate in Driggs, Idaho. I was physically unable to be there during my father's estate sale process as I live in another state, so I needed to hire a trustworthy person to coordinate the effort. Mr. Jensen came highly recommended by a law enforcement officer in the Eastern Idaho area. In my experience, Mr. Jensen has proven to be highly trustworthy, communicative, and diligent in handling every aspect of this emotionally sensitive process.

One of the key tasks Mr. Jensen managed was the detailed sale of all vehicles and high-value items. Mr. Jensen provided me with a detailed contract before the process commenced and he followed the contract in its entirety. He created a spreadsheet which he shared that meticulously documented the sale of all high value items and vehicles, providing clear and transparent information that allowed me to feel confident in the handling of these transactions. The commission fee was more than fair, and the professionalism with which Mr. Jensen handled the cleanout of my father's residence was commendable.

As a police officer, I have witnessed firsthand how vulnerable families can be taken advantage of during difficult times in the estate sale process, but I can confidently state that Mr. Jensen was thorough and trustworthy throughout the entire process. He treated my family with care and respect, ensuring that all tasks were completed thoroughly and transparently. He also met the effective deadline required to clean out my father's residence in preparation for listing it for sale.

I could not be physically present during this process, but I had full confidence in Mr. Jensen's ability to manage everything in my absence. Mr. Jensen exceeded my expectations, and I am deeply grateful for that. Based on my experience, I would highly recommend Aaron Jensen to anyone in need of estate sale coordination services.
